Acer Lifestyle brings travel-led tailoring to Bangalore Fashion Week Day Three

Acer Lifestyle presented a travel-minded collection at the 27th edition of Bangalore Fashion Week, pairing luggage with polished separates and evening silhouettes. The looks moved from corsetry and denim to fluid black and lilac dresses with a streamlined, urban finish.

BENGALURU, 17 OCTOBER 2026 — Acer Lifestyle's Day Three showcase at the 27th edition of Bangalore Fashion Week drew from the language of travel, with hard-shell luggage carried as part of the styling and the clothing shaped around clean, city-ready lines. The collection balanced utility and polish, bringing together fitted bodices, tailored trousers and sharply cut dresses in a restrained palette.

One look paired a structured corset-style top in a rich floral and metallic surface with blue denim flares, creating a contrast between ornate texture and everyday denim. The silhouette held close through the torso before opening into a relaxed leg, giving the outfit a distinctly transitional feel. The suitcase in a pale beige tone reinforced the travel narrative without distracting from the clothes.

Elsewhere, the label worked in monochrome and near-monochrome dressing. A sleeveless dark ensemble featured a peplum-like flare at the waist and soft, tapered trousers, finished with a slim belt that defined the shape. Another look used a fitted black dress with slim straps and a thigh-high slit, its simplicity offset by the sharp line of the hem and the clean profile of the styling.

A pale lilac mini dress brought a lighter note to the sequence. Cut close through the bodice and softened by a gentle flare through the skirt, it read as compact and precise, with narrow straps and a crisp, modern outline. The fabric caught the light with a subtle sheen, adding dimension without excess.

Across the selection, Acer Lifestyle kept the focus on silhouette, surface and movement. The collection suggested a wardrobe designed for transit and arrival alike, where luggage, tailoring and evening dressing shared the same polished frame. The result was composed, urban and deliberately understated, with each look carrying the same sense of direction.
